Dear :

We invite you again to the Institute for Military Assistance as a guest speaker to the Military Assistance Officer Command and Staff Course on the morning of Tuesday, 28 April 1970.

This is the second Military Assistance Officer Course and the composition of the class will be about the same as the first course.

We suggest that the presentation be approximately fifty minutes in length, followed by a fifty minute question and answer period. The presentation should generally cover the role of the CIA in low, mid, and high intensity conflict; the organization for the several levels of conflict, and the relationships with other intelligence agencies; methods of intelligence collection, restrictions applicable to intelligence organizations, and how the CIA can assist the military assistance officer. A discussion of successful and unsuccessful intelligence operations and lessons learned would be appreciated.

We look forward to again hosting your visit to Fort Bragg.

Sincerely,

Harry H Jackson
